

Study Abroad

Studying abroad is the act of a student pursuing educational opportunities in a country other than one's own. This can include primary, secondary, and post-secondary students. Questions? Ask a staff member below.

Matt Abbott (China)

Laura Arellono (Middle East, Italy, Peru)

Katie Carter (Italy)

Leslie Colerin (China)

Bronwyn Collins (Spain)

Robyn Cook (UK)

Antonia Dempsey (Ecuador)

Robyn Eliason (Costa Rica)

Stephanie Feakes-Young (Scotland)

Alexis Gonzales (Puerto Rico)

Ina Gorzig (India, Tanzania, New Zealand, Mexico)

Laura Graber (France & Canada)

Peter Hagenson (Ecuador)

Skip Haley (Greece)

Mark Heymans (Spain)

Nell Holmwig (Mexico & Guatemala)

Teresa Kiedrowski (Spain)

Sandra Kroger (France)

Jessica Kutz (Spain & France)

Nicole Lamb (Japan)

Christian Ledesma (Spain)

Serita Mattei (India)

Michael Neufeld (India)

Megan Olson (Spain)

Lisa Purcell (UK & New Zealand)

Alexander Rack (Italy)

Ben Rengstorf (Dominican Republic)

Joe Sayles (Denmark)

Holly Thorstad (Austria)

Ana Vasquez (Costa Rica)

Troy Wildenberg (South Africa)

Student Exchange Programs

Mariah Johnson (South Carolina)

Teresa Kiedrowski (Guatemala & Mexico)

Kari Slade (Germany)

Katherine Zetah (Hawaii)

Volunteer Abroad

Amanda Justen (Galapagos)